- Compliance with a legal obligation applicable to us (e.g. with regard to invoicing);

- The legitimate interests pursued by us (or a data recipient) provided that these interests prevail over your fundamental rights and freedoms (e.g. pseudonymised data processed for research purposes, your email address for direct marketing purposes if you are a customer from us, protecting our company offices and company goods);
- In some cases, we will ask for your free, prior and informed consent before processing some of your personal data (e.g. your email address for direct marketing purposes if you are not yet a customer from us, employment data when you apply for a position with us).

We do not subject you to decisions based exclusively on automated processing that produce legal effects concerning you or similarly significantly affect you.

The provision of some of your personal data (e.g. your name, address, contact data, bank account, etc.) is in some cases a condition to the conclusion of the Agreement with us, necessary for us to be able to provide you with all the functionalities of our Products and Services or may be necessary for us to comply with our legal obligations. The possible consequences of not providing your personal data could include our inability to meet our obligations under the Agreement (e.g. the delivery of our products to you), our inability to provide you with all the available functionalities or a breach by us of one or more obligations under applicable laws (e.g. laws on accounting).
